

Chemicals can represent a danger to employees' safety and health. The employer has the responsibility to conduct risk assessments and ensure that the working environment is fully satisfactory in all respects. The course provides basic training in safe handling of chemicals, risk management as well as applicable laws and regulations.

Content

- What are chemicals
- Required marking (new pictograms 2015)
- Health hazards and injuries
- Environment and waste
- Classification
- Regulations
- Risk management
- Security data sheets and chemical database
- Assessments, measurements and health checks
- Protective equipment and first aid

Course details

Type: e-learning
Target audience: Safety representatives managers, middle management and others with a need for a thorough knowledge of safe chemical handling
Duration: Ca. 75 minutes
Language: Norwegian and English

Contact

e-kurs.no | Tel: + 47 33 35 14 20 | contact@e-kurs.no

Bilfinger Industrial Services Norway AS
lene.bergsvand.johansen@bilfinger.com

Objectives

Create sound attitudes and increase your awareness of what you need to consider when working with chemicals. Give you the ability to find and use information to avoid injuries and negative health effects.